11:11

As many of you may know, seeing 11:11 or 111 is known to be of spiritual significance. There are several meanings if you find yourself seeing this pattern of numbers frequently.

- Pay Attention to Your Thoughts as an Opportunity Portal is Opening Up For You
- Everything is the Result of Your Thoughts and Feelings
- You Are on the Path of Awakening

The overall meaning of 1111 is that you can start manifesting your True Self - your soul's desires. What do you want to manifest in your life experience or reality? Remember, your thoughts will create a vibration that will attract things with equal vibration. In other words, your thoughts carry energy that can manifest into your reality.

For this reason, when you see 11:11, it is a spiritual message to remind you that you are the creator of your own reality and you need to take responsibility for it. Your current situation is the result of your past thoughts and actions. By taking a proactive approach, you can become aware of what you think, what you say, and what you do in order to completely take charge of your life.

Remember, your life is the result of the result of all your choices, and once you understand that you've always had the power to create your reality, you can then become the conscious creator of all your experiences going forward. And most of all, it will be an empowering journey to be more aware than ever about the decisions you are making for your life's vision. With your focused awareness on your mission, you realize that you are not going to wait for the perfect moment to come to you. Instead of your soul is urging you to take the lead and create the perfect moment for you.

Keep in mind that the Universe doesn't judge your decisions, it just makes them happen. It's your decision to choose what you want to manifest in this life experience.

The message behind 11:11 is that you are to take responsibility and create consciously. You are the creator- the writer, producer, director and actor in your own story. Because you're playing the lead character in your own life, You can direct your life in a positive way and choose to be powerful instead of powerless in your existence.

Manifesting Money & Magic

I am so excited that the stars are aligning for our very first Manifesting Money & Magic event on Thursday, November 11th! This is something that has been in the works - in my mind at least for over 5 years and am looking forward to our very first event!

I feel passionate that having this event on 11/11 with the spiritual significance of the date, combined with observing Veteran's day will lay the foundation to create a truly magical experience for the vendors, speakers, and attendees!

Steel Tie Spirits is a beautiful space with so many Old Florida historic touches. We were able to tour the space last week and can't wait to host this event here! Steel Tie Spirits also gives back to charitable organizations that support Veterans so serendipity is all around making this event truly special!

GET YOUR COSMIC CRYPTO MOJO ON RELATIONSHIPS, CONFUSION AND COMPULSIONS

The Challenging Signs in the Heavens:

I am writing on 9/23 shortly after a Full Moon. Yikes! Mercury, the planet of the mind that, when disturbed is the planetary source of confusion is exactly 90 degrees away from Pluto, the planet of power that, when disturbed, is the planetary source of compulsions. A 90 degree relationship between planets is known as a square, and is typically disrupting. Squares motivate us to make changes. On 9/26 Mercury in Libra, the sign of relationships, goes into retrograde motion so it will cross back into this square configuration with Pluto 9/29 - 10/1 and then again on 10/25 - 10/27.

Typically I share that Full Moons are great times to gain clarity because, by its very nature, there is more light. However, this was not the case for this last lunar event. The Full Moon having occurred with the Moon near Neptune, the planet of confusion and further heightened by the square between Mercury and Pluto was probably for many a time of confusion. You may have found that this Full Moon set you into a vague to intense state of confusion and worry. At its worst you may even be finding yourself on the verge of a tailspin.

First Aid for Challenging Times

Years of experience with sharing astro content makes me well aware that everyone much prefers to hear good news from and about the planets. Learning that we are in for a whole month of relationship challenges can be disconcerting. You perhaps want to stop reading. And WAIT, before you choose to avoid or choose to remove hearing this content, I remind you of the pop phrase: "When you are up to you're a___ in alligators, remember to drain the swamp."

These challenging heavenly aspects are happening to everyone, your family, co-workers, employees, bosses, lovers, children, partners, etc. etc. So even if you have seemed, so far, to have to been spared their influence the Rx may come in handy for helping others. Here are couple helpful hints that can serve you in the coming weeks.

The first is offered to help you back off if you feel compelled to change someone else. It is gleaned from the wisdom of what are known as the slogans from 12 Step Programs: "You are powerless over people, places and things"

Next is an antidote for when you feel compelled yet stuck when it comes to changing you. It is gleaned from the book You Can Heal Your Life written by, the now deceased, new age guru Louise Hay. It is the first line of a song: "I love myself the way I am, there's nothing I need to change."

The full song is wonderfully uplifting to listen to on a regular basis and can be found in several different versions on YouTube. The words are also in the book that I also recommend if you are seeking support at this time.

Use these phrases as mantras (phrases that are repeated to yourself over and over). The repetition will engage the compulsive energy while you are telling your unconscious mind to find some peace and calm so you accept life on life's terms.
