"Bahagia - Meaning Happiness"

True happiness is to firstly enjoy your own company, living in peace and harmony with your own body, mind and soul. Happiness is contagious. It comes from you and radiates out into the world.

Holiday Cheer!

Feeling so grateful for the lovely women that I am able to work with each and every day! I feel truly blessed to have such wonderful, smart, caring people on my team! We enjoyed our holiday luncheon at the Seafood Bar and got to meet Cara's baby, Ellerie (4 months). She was a perfect angel throughout our lunch and was so precious! We also are excited to announce two new additions to Team Jill - meet Shyann, Administrative Assistant and Anna, Small Business Specialist! It was a wonderful experience and a nice way to get in the holiday spirit!

Holiday Giving

'Tis the season for holiday giving and now is the perfect time to donate to your favorite 501(c)3 non-profit organization or religious organization. For 2021, the IRS is allowing taxpayers to take a charitable donation deduction even if the taxpayer does not itemize deductions. For individual taxpayers, they allow up to a $300 charitable donation and for married filing jointly, they allow up to a $600 charitable donation.

Personal Transformation in 2022!

As the year comes to an end, I have had so many year end tax planning conversations where the general consensus is that people CANNOT WAIT to get out of 2021 and there is an overwhelming feeling that 2022 is going to be THE YEAR! It seems that everyone feels that the past 20 + months have taken quite the toll on everyone - personally, professionally, spiritually and mentally and we are all ready for a fresh start! Read this article below adapted from Sourcesofinsight.com about the personal transformation of author JD. Meier:

Stephen Covey has an empowering way of thinking about spiritual intelligence. He describes it in terms of three related parts: integrity, meaning, and voice. He says integrity is being true to your highest values and conscious. Meaning is a sense of contribution to people and causes. Voice is about aligning your work to your unique calling and gifts.

That's was the challenge and the opportunity ... how can I align my work with my unique calling and gifts? JD Meier created three key strategies to taking his life to the next level:

1. Be who you want to be and create the experiences you want to create.

The first strategy actually starts with a very fundamental question: "Who do you want to be and what experiences do you want to create?" The idea of creating the experiences you want to create and focusing on growth really brings things to a new light and creates opportunities that were not able to be seen before

2. Give your best where you have your best to give.

The second strategy was about getting the idea of spending more time in my strengths, and less time in my weaknesses. To do this, it meant getting clarity on my true strengths and talents. By this, I mean really figuring out my natural thinking, feeling, and doing patterns.

3. Live your values.

The third strategy, is about living your values. To live your values, you first have to know what they are.. This sounds easy, but the problem is that if you see a list of values, they all look good. After all, they are "values." The trick is to find the vital few that help you prioritize the others. The other trick is having a label for your values, so that you have a handle to refer to them.. The balance between achievement and growth is that I want to enjoy the journey AND the destination, creating meaningful adventures along the way. With my values in hand, it's easier to make choices and drive from them. I can also connect the work I do in my day job to my values to make it more meaningful.. This is where the magic of life happens!

Holiday Week: Busy Times on Earth and in the Heavens

What's Up for Us?

As we are rushing around getting ready for the holiday the planets are making sure the cosmos will not be left out of the mix. The following are a few of the many activities related to Cosmic Mojo that the Universe is orchestrating:

- A Full Moon (12/18 & 19)
- Winter Solstice (12/21)
- Saturn Square Uranus for the third and last time this year (12/24)
- Venus joining with Pluto (On-going and continues into spring)

Should you be interested in gaining a comprehensive understanding of all this activity and more I recommend watching a recent YouTube video post by Pam Gregory, a highly competent astrologer from the UK. The link to her overview of the second half of December is <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MXicS4Fotto&t=2s>. She not only explains what is happening she also shares helpful advice for effectively managing your energy.

Unique Sun/Moon Opportunities for Personal Expansion Now Available

We all know that a Full Moon happens when the Sun is opposite the Moon. However, you may not be aware that all Full Moons are not created equal. All Full Moons appear to be about the same in the heavens and however if a Full Moon is specially "aspected" (influenced by other cosmic factors) it has the potential to have greater influence as it presents unique opportunities. Such is the case with this 12/18 & 19 Full Moon. This Full Moon is being generated when the Sun is located on the Galactic Center of the Milky Way. Thus the unique and powerful energies of the galaxy are available to us at the time of this Full Moon. (FYI: Pam explains more about this in her video.)

Milk is the first and therefore the foremost source of nutrition for all humans. As citizens of the Milky Way we can think of ourselves as being cosmically fed and sustained by Cosmic Milk. This is a very expansive and perhaps out of the ordinary way to be thinking about who and what we are. As we know the events of the past two years have changed much in our Universe and as a result have called upon us to expand our horizons. If you are thinking that powerful inspiration to be all you can be might be helpful I encourage you to gaze at this Full Moon and think of it as a source of feeding you uplifting energy for sustaining your new life.
