WEEKLY TIPS FOR YOUR WELL BEING

Knowledge is

POWER

They say "knowledge is power" but have you ever really thought about all the benefits of learning? Below I listed out just a few of the many examples of why I strive to always continue to seek new information and learn new skills.

Through knowledge, we are able to differentiate between the right and wrong, good or bad. It also helps us to overcome our weaknesses, faults as well as how to face difficulties in life with confidence and control on them as soon as possible.

Your self-esteem, self-respect and self-confidence are all reinforced when you're well-informed. In many life circumstances, being knowledgeable will give you additional power. It gives you the confidence you need!

Knowledge helps us in our future planning and steers us to the right path. When you're proficient, you have the freedom to make decisions on your own. You're not dependent on others for guidance. You know that you can stand on your own feet.

When you've got a good grasp, you're more apt to take risks as well! You use your knowledge for your full benefit, so you can take calculated risks.

When you are knowledgeable in your field of work you can learn by other snad whats been proven. Find the best practices in your professional industry. Learn how to achieve what you truly want in your personal life. Follow hobby courses and much more... The point is that you can see what works best (from others) and save yourself precious time and money.

Last but not least, with the knowledge you're more likely to succeed. Success means different things to different people. However, set the right life goals for yourself, have an action plan to achieve them and learn the skills that will empower you!

BITCOIN MEETS NUMEROLOGY METAPHYSICAL INSIGHTS ON CRYPTO CURRENCY:

Bitcoin, the flagship, first ever crypto currency was initially traded, and was thus “born,” on January 3, 2009. Numerology is the metaphysical interpretation of the qualities of numbers. In this ancient system the total of the numbers in the date of birth are known as the Life Path and refer to the mission of a person or entity. The Life Path Number is calculated by adding all the digits of a DOB and then reducing any 2 digit number to a single digit. For Bitcoin this equation is:

$$1 + 3 + 2 + 0 + 0 + 9 = 15:$$

$$1 + 5 = #6$$

The Life Path #6 relates to love and the powerful forces of compassion and empathy. Love has a long lasting association as being a cosmic beacon of hope for humanity. For example consider how the Beatles’s song All You Need is Love, first released in 1967, still holds appeal today more than 50 years later.

Michael Saylor, an outspoken businessman, and vocal advocate of Bitcoin, shocked the financial world when he invested $150 million, the total of his company’s treasury, in Bitcoin. In his many interviews, that can be found on YouTube, he frequently refers to Bitcoin as “hope.” Learn more about him, crypto, and why he believes Bitcoin is a manifestation of its numerology Life Path of hope at his website, <https://www.hope.com>.
